

This week: Homes on islands

1 Friday Harbor, Wash.: This newly built four-bedroom home on San Juan Island sits on 2.67 acres along False Bay's western shore. The 4,800-square-foot house includes a media room, library, and three fireplaces. $2,895,000. Larry Carver, Coldwell Banker, (360) 472-0922

2 Nantucket, Mass.: This three-bedroom home sits on 2.7 acres with 200 feet of beachfront. A kitchen accessible patio and living room with fireplace both have views of Nantucket Harbor. $10,200,000. Clarence Doucette, Maury Pette Schelby's International Realty, (508) 228-1881

3 Ulapue, Hawaii: Located on the island of Molokai, which lies northwest of Maui, this 1.56-acre property includes a six-bedroom main house and three other buildings, one of which formerly housed a general store. The grounds also have a pool and hot tub. $1,900,000. Ray Miller, Frandy Isle Realty, (808) 553-3666

Steal of the week

4 Durham, N.C.: This four-bedroom, 2,900-square-foot house, built circa 1915, is just a few miles from Duke University. The home features inlaid hardwood floors, a sunroom, and a sleeping porch. $349,000. Peter Rumsey, Prudential Carolinas Realty, (919) 971-4118