

The sellers added or enlarged closets in the two west side BRs.

A true master suite was created when the sellers installed a door from the middle bedroom to the adjacent full bath that includes a walk-in closet.

Prior owners, Peter and Carolyn Andrews, improvements include new baths, kitchen, wiring, plumbing, HVAC, roof and much more. Peter also identified options for finishing the large attic space.

The tiled 2nd full bath sparkles.

An brick driveway leads to the serene backyard that was fenced and landscaped by the sellers. Note the roof line of the old detached kitchen now an integral part of the house.

The partitioned daylight basement with concrete floors, multiple doors including double swinging garage doors, offers options as studio, workshop, small boat storage or finished space.

The Historic Oakwood neighborhood is an eclectic urban village seamlessly surrounded by unique urban neighbors pictured below. The value of property in Oakwood is increased by its status as a local Historic District, the first in NC.

The Oakwood Common a block away is a play area for toddlers and the site of the annual spring jazz brunch, 4th of July picnic and hot cider during the Candlelight Tour in December. Canines can play at the nearby Oakwood Dog Park.

Family friendly Friday night concerts are a neighborhood gathering place on the lawn of the Mordecai Historic House and park, and other nearby venues.
