Home For Sale

700 E. Franklin St. Historic Oakwood

Circa 1922.
3 bedrooms, 2 full baths.
1,836 sqft.
Large 0.22 acre lot.
Basement studio/workshop.
$350,000.
tmls#827186.

Painstakingly renovated (just completed) as a personal residence by the sellers who are now moving out of state, this 3 bedroom home has all new bathrooms (2 including a real master bath), kitchen, instantaneous" gas hot water heater, electrical wiring, daylight laundry room, air conditioning. The gas heat, roof & windows (double-glazed) are 3-4 years old.

Open Floor plan

This 1922 Bungalow has "big bones". The long center hall parallels the open flow from the 17x14ft living room through the dining room and kitchen to the large back deck and yard. Finished hardwood floors sparkle throughout.

The 14x14 ft deck overlooks the large south-facing back yard that can be an expansive lawn and/or garden. Note the existing curb-cut, an attractive feature of the 0.22 acre corner lot.

Butcher block counter tops and a tile floor set the tone for this practical kitchen with a view overlooking the backyard.

A true master suite

The 17x14ft Master Suite includes a new full bath and two closets. A separate laundry room is nearby. The fireplace is decorative but could be relined.

Vanilla cokes nearby

You are just blocks away from the Mordecai House & Historic Park. Get a vanilla coke, canoli, Krispy Kreme & more at the nearby Person Street shops.

The property is located in the Oakwood national historic district but not the local district. This means you do not have to get Historic District permission to change the exterior. More information and maps on Historic Districts can be found on my web site.

The bright 471sf basement studio or workshop has four windows and a concrete floor.
