Features

Located on one of the most scenic blocks in Raleigh, this home would have been demolished in the 1970's to make way for a since cancelled north-south expressway. See map on my web site. V. Otis Parker was one of the developers of the Cameron Park.

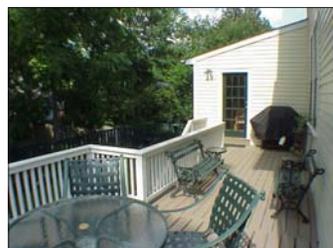

Two of the great spaces in Oakwood are the broad wrap-around front porch and the upstairs sitting area (above left) that opens to the round windows in the 3rd story tower. In the 1990's neighbors gathered on the porch to watch Gregory Peck and Lauren Bacall make a TV movie in the house across the street.

Architect Janet Wellman & her husband Doug have made this an even more extraordinary home & floor plan by opening the tower, restoring the staircase, adding a world class master suite with a walk-in closet and built-in shelves (below), and by giving painstaking attention to details.

A complete list of their improvements is available on my web site along with a floor plan that shows the remarkable versatility of the current plan. The Wellman's use as offices the room shown left above and an adjoining smaller space with outside entrances front & back. These rooms could become a 1st floor master suite or be used "as is" for a guest room or 4th bedroom. A large daylight basement could be a studio, workshop and/or storage area.
